LEARNING & GROWTH GROWS HAND IN HAND

At Rising Facility Management, we firmly believed that constant learning is the key to success. And hence, we train our staff thoroughly for each and every work challenge. We also are of the belief that an employees' personal growth can lead to the company's growth and we leave no stone unturned in providing the best of training to each of our employees.

According to their background and skills set, we develop training programmes. Our training modules are designed by experts from the field. After screening them, we decide the kind of training they require. Right from personal grooming to the technical know-how and cleaning methods, our programmes cover it all.

TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT

INTRODUCTION

Every new employee is asked to attend this programme wherein they are introduced to each and every detail of their job profile. We take them through the work pattern and the guidelines.

PROCESS TRAINING

After the introduction, employees are explained thoroughly about the process. This includes division of work on the basis of different levels, work schedule, an inspection of the area, products and technology used on the job. Each and every detail of the process is explained as well as practised by the employees under the supervision of experts. In this programme, we also speak about personal grooming and presentation. This programme is not restricted to new employees only. In the case of a process, technology and product upgradation, trained employees are also asked to attend this programme.

ON-JOB TRAINING

After the process training, new employees are given on-job training by experts and supervisors. This gives them hands-on experience on the latest technology, cleaning methods and operation of different machines and instant feedback on errors.

SAFETY MEASURES

Safety is of utmost importance at Rising Facility Management. We take the required safety measures to make sure that products and machinery is used responsibly. Stepwise, employees are educated and trained for the use of every product and technology. Safety, Accuracy and Professional stands at the forefront of Rising Facility Management.

GROOMING

Self-grooming is necessary for a professional environment. We don't just train our staff with the work process and knowledge but also groom them. Hygiene and appearance play a bigger role in the work environment and we make sure that our staff is well-groomed on duty.

TALENT RECOGNITION

In today's world of fierce competition, retaining talent is a crucial part. A company's growth depends highly on its employees. When an employee doesn't get appreciate for their efforts they lose the motivation and enthusiasm that is required for their personal as well as the company's growth. We recognize our employees' talent and inspire them to do their best. We believe the time and hard work an individual puts in his/her jobs require recognition. It is our job to keep our employees happy and productive.
